HUGHES WON CUP RACE

POSSIBLE ONE HUNDRED.

High Amateur Average for Day Was Made by Voris and Lecompte-Thirteen Shooters in Events.

WEST BADEN, Ind., Oct. 29.-The third day of the shooting tournament at French Lick was but slimly attended, for some reason, possibly due to the fact that "Smiling" Tom Taggart was not present to jolly the boys into the belief that they were having a good time among themselves. An unlucky number, thirteen, took part in the events to-day. The sparrow race, for a cup at 100 sparrows, will be the feature of to-morrow's programme. Hughes won the cup race on targets by a score of 99 out of 100. He also held the high professional average for the day. The high amateur average for the day was made by Voris and Le Compte. The scores to-day were as follows: Trimble shot at 200 and broke 187; Elliott, 186; Hughes, 185; Boa, 185; Le Compte, 184; Voris, 184; Phyllis, 182; Heer, 178; Rike, 176; Clark, 173; Marshall, 170; Waters, 170; Hen-

DANVILLE PLAYERS HERE.

Dan Daly Is the Only One Who Has Not Arrived in City.

All the members of the Danville Central League polo team are now in the city with the exception of Dan Daly, the speedy first rush. Judd, Turner and Hadley arrived yesterday, and Moran and Sutherland have been here for several days.

The players will leave this city for Anderson on Monday, where they will practice until the opening of the season in Danville. Daly is scheduled to arrive here Saturday, and the team will then be complete. The position of utility man will be given to either Judd or Moran. The player who makes the best showing on the floor will be given the position of half back, and the other will be kept for utility man.

JAPS PLAY THE GAME IN ALL PARTS OF THEIR EMPIRE.

Professional Teams in Leagues Undoubtedly Will Be Seen There Within the Next Few Years.

San Francisco Chronicle.

Of all the games foreign to Japan, none have taken such a hold upon the Japanese as the American national game. In fact, it is really the only game which is continually played year after year with ever increasing popularity. Only of late have the Japanese taken up football and tennis; the former only by one or two schools with very little success, while tennis gathering favor in several directions, and will without doubt be a game in which they will ultimately excel. But baseball is eminently suited to the agile Japanese, and from the start they have taken to it like a duck to water. It has proved so popular that all the large cities throughout Japan, and many a little village, can boast of a baseball nine, and some of them three and four.

Baseball was first introduced into Japan about twenty-five years ago, when the American residents of Yokohoma began playing the game in matches against menof-war stopping in port. The Japanese, however, did not take it up until about 1887, when a Mr. Hiraoka, who had been in America for several years, taught the game to several of the schools of Tokio on his return to Japan, and from that time its popularity was assured. The game spread rapidly among the students of nearly every school in Tokio. It was some time before any of them could play it with any degree of success, although those interested availed themselves of the opportunity of learning the game by watching the foreigners play in Yokohoma when the chance offered. In 1890 the first high school of Tokio won the championship, and they have since that time been acknowledged the finest players in Japan, quite a record to hold for thirteen years. Since then this particular school has only been beaten once Yokohama and the crack nines of the American navy visiting Japan. The Nobles' school of Tokio has also another excellent team, while for hard work and enthusiasm it is hard to beat the Yokohoma Commercial School. This year, for the first time in the history of baseball in Japan, the team of this school arranged a tour throughout the empire, playing games in the most prominent cities. It was this same school that started what is called "all-day matches," commencing at 7:30 in the morning and keeping it up all day in series of class games, three innings at a time, as long as daylight would permit. This new departure will no doubt be taken up by ton & Eastern junction, forty miles east of several of the schools next year, bringing here, at 6 o'clock this evening and both en- the always popular game more prominently than ever before the public eye. hardly practicable.

The Japanese as players are really excellent. They play with a coolness and steadiness that is wonderful. Their fielding is beyond criticism, though much complaint has been made in regard to the gloves they wear. Nearly the entire team, the first five rounds, when Santry's backers | from catcher to right field, use almost the same mitt of Japanese make. Although rather small it is true, yet it is not a glove, and certainly would not be allowed ican's peculiar guard as no other fighter | if the rules were strictly followed. This mitt is really responsible for their superb fielding, though every one who watched them closely concedes that they would in time do just as well if they kept to the regulation glove. Their throwing fiercely in the thirteenth round received a to the regulation glove. Their throwing terrific short-arm joit behind the ear and is remarkably strong and accurate, it better the strong and accurate, it better the strong and accurate the strong accurate the str most excel. Batting is their weakest point. They are rather small to use regular American bats that carry the ball, though a gradual improvement in this department of the game is noticeable. As base runners they are lithe and active, and in a light sort of semi-Japanese uniform and usually bare legs and feet they steal bases with great ease. Good Japanese pitchers are not numerous, though the best, as twirlers, are fairly effective. Some of the Japanese pitchers have mastered several of the curves, though the majority throw nothing but a straight swift ball, keeping their heads remarkably in tight

ONLY FIFTY CONVERTS

DOWIE'S CRUSADE AT NEW YORK DID LITTLE FOR ZION.

Another Denunciatory Address Which the Rev. Dr. Parkhurst Was Excoriated.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29 .- John Alexander Dowie, at his noonday meeting to-day, engaged in denunciation of medical students, medical colleges, secret societies and the newspapers. His audience consisted about 800 persons, most of whom were his own followers. Dowie did not stick very closely to his published subject: "Medicine and Surgery; Are They Sciences?" Before he appeared on the platform it was announced that fifty converts had been secured during the campaign of the Zionists in this city, and that they would be baptized on Sunday. Concerning the Rev.

Charles H. Parkhurst, Dowie said: "There's that miserable Parkhurst. He toils over his sermons and his hearers toil while listening to them. I have made up my mind that Parkhurst isn't worth the powder to be shot. He never in his life addressed as many people as I address in one week. I never heard that Dr. Parkhurst had to get the police to keep people out of his church, as they had to do at my meetings. What do I care what they say about me? Bah! I preach to more than a million every week. I've had a pretty good time in New York, but there's a better time coming.'

Dowie announced that after a conference with city officials he had decided to postpone the opening of the Carnegie Hall meetings next week. To avoid the excitement of election day the first meeting will be held Wednesday night instead of Tuesday, and the same number of meetings would be held as originally intended.

Mrs. Myrtle Allen Knocked Down, but Saved Her Pocketbook.

An unknown negro attempted to snatch a pocketbook from the hands of Mrs. Myrtle Allen in front of 428 North Alabama street last night, and on finding that the young woman was going to fight for her property he struck her and knocked her to the pavement. Her outcries attracted the attention of Patrolmen Shea and Vaughn, who were in the neighborhood, and they ran to her assistance, but the negro saw them coming and made his escape down an alley. The police searched for the colored man but were unable to locate him. Out-side of a severe fright and a few bruises, Mrs. Allen was none the worse for her ex-

In a fight at Wesley A. Stout's saloon, on West Market street, last night, Allie Parks, a drunken man, got into an argument with J. D. Hilligoss, the barkeeper, and he received a slap on the head with an empty beer bottle. Hilligoss did not escape without a few bruises and cuts and he showed plainly when he was locked up at the police station that he had been mixed up in some kind of a fight. Both men were placed under arrest and they will be given a hearing before Judge Whallon in the Police Court this morning.

Losses by Fire.

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 29.-The works of the Johnson Forge Company in this city were destroyed by fire to-night. The origin is unknown. The loss is about $125,000, partly covered by insurance. About 600 men are thrown out of employment. John R. Johnson, of Philadelphia, is president of the company. Burglary insurance solicitors recognize an approaching wedding where expensive presents are to be expected as an excellent opening for them to write a policy. Almissing after the ceremony is over. As the detective agency cannot be made to make good the loss the burglary insurance solicitor has a good talking point for his policy, and, furthermore, he reminds his prosgood for the short time during which the house is given over to the preparations for the wedding, but for the entire year, and also that in certain companies the wraps and belongings of the guests are covered by the policy as well.

Indianapolis is sure to have more than its share of conventions next year. All eves will be on St. Louis and her great exposition, but as a convention city the lack of hotel facilities will make that place undesirable. But many convention bodies are planning to meet in cities conveniently near, and after adjournment the members will attend the exposition. For the carryingout of this plan Indianapolis is considered one of the most advantageous points, and already a number of associations of various kinds have named this city as their next | cessive commissions on "preferred busimeeting place. bureau of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, just issued, summarizes the fires due to electricity during the past three months as follows: Fourteenn fires were due to crosses of telephone, telegraph and signal wires with high potential circuits; 6 fires were caused by crosses of low and high potential circuits; 11 were due to defective wiring of fixtures; 19 by wires grounded on gas pipes, of which 6 were at fixtures; 5 were caused by flexible cord wrapped around gas pipes, and 8 by line wires in contact with gas pipes. (In nearly all of these cases the pipes was punctured and the escaping gas ignited.) Nine were caused by the heat from incandescent lamps, which were in contact with inflammable material; 3 due to short circuit of wires in molding, of which 2 were caused by dampness and 1 by a nail in contact with the wire; 3 by overheating of electric smoothing irons, which were left with the current turned on; 7 pole and tree fires were reported; 15 were attributed to lightning and 13 were in electric cars. During the past quarter six persons were reported to have been killed and seven injured by contact with high potential circuits or wires crossed with them. Reports of 150 electrical fires were received, with losses aggregat-

Commenting on the recent recommendation of the Manufacturers' Club, of this city, that encouragement be offered for the entrance of more fire insurance companies in the State, Rough Notes, the insurance in hearty accord with the idea of facilitating the admission of companies of other States to Indiana that are now debarred by statutory requirements too exacting in the matter of designating the classes of securities in which at least $200,000 of the admitted assets shall be invested. A very brief amendment to the present law is all that is required to bring it in conformity with the laws of Illinois, Ohio and many other States, and to secure the admission of a considerable number of companies now doing business in these States that will not surance companies operating in that State apply for admission to Indiana. Those companies will not change their investment in city bonds for bonds and mortgages on real estate, because they may be called upon in case of heavy conflagration losses to have securities known as 'quick assets'-assets that can be disposed of on the open market at any time. MEN WHO BET.

Claim that They Don't Do It with

Old-Time Courage. New Orleans Times-Democrat. are not as game now as they used to when it comes to the matter of betting and backing their judgment with money. they do not seem to know how to get the fun out of the sport like the old time fel-lows. It used to be the principal form of amusement in the more rural sections of other men of his section who were in the country. As I have said on a previous occasion men did not think so much of the dollar then as they do now. Losing did not hurt the fellows of the old regime like it hurts the men who bet in this day and time. If they lost they lost gamely and the fel-low who would whimper about his losses was looked upon with a withering sort of pity. Besides he would be outlawed by the to bet. In those days men bet for the sake of betting and to show that they knew more about the thing they bet on than the other fellow. It was more a question o pride than a question of money with ther journal of this city says: "Rough Notes is It was my good fortune to be acquainted in hearty accord with the idea of facilitate with some of these picturesque old characters and I recall many amusing things which came up during my association with them. He carried a little note-book around with him all the time and was constantly making odd observations. In this way he gathered a wealth of information that was of much value to him in making wagers. It gave him an advantage over the fellow he would bet with. Dowie and Hillis.

New York Mail and Express. Dowie's threat to spank the Rev. Di Hillis and the Rev. Dr. Henson, of Brooklyn, recalls the incident in his Western experience which is thought to have been esponsible for his hostility to the Plymo Church minister. Dr. Hillis, in the early stages of Dowie's Chicago evolution, occaionally attended a Zionite service. Do knew him well by sight and was noticeably uncomfortable when he was present. One day the "Restorer" was explaining to a gaping multitude his own relation to the moral system of the universe. "Men am myself. I stand or fall by myself. The first Elijah went gloriously into the desert-probably on a camel. When Founder of Christianity entered Jerusalem he rode in the beauty of modesty upon an ass. If it comes my hour to triu when I enter some great city, th gates flung wide to receive me-I shall know how to go humbly. I shall have not even an ass to carry me. I shall go on foot." From a seat under the Tabernacle gallery, and suspiciously near that of Hillis, came the response: "Quite right, Dowie! One ass will be enough."
